

How are changes in housing prices related to birth rates across U.S. states?

- Every $100,000 increase in home value is associated with about a 1.3-point decrease in fertility rate ($p = 0.006$).
- Conclusion: There is a negative relationship between housing prices and fertility rates in the U.S.

