Hi Taylor,

Just wanted to reach out and say thank you for being a great professor and making this a great semester as a result! I learned a lot in your class, and I have been proudly telling everyone that I can now code, lol! On a serious note, I appreciated your welcoming atmosphere and class structure; it truly made all the difference as someone who is consistently stressed about grades. The group research project was also so fun and helped me apply everything I learned which was interesting to see. Anyway, happy holidays to you and the family! Have an amazing winter break :)

Best,
Ruby
